

FIREMEN'S MUSTER TO BE HELD HERE IN JULY

The members of the Franklin Pierce Veteran Firemen's Association have been working quietly on this project for some time past, and it is understood that already substantial sum of money, to carry out the affair has been pledged by local enterprises and business firms, who realize that the holding of a firemen's muster in Portsmouth means the bringing of thousands of strangers in their own gates as well as dollars to our local merchants.

Another meeting of the executive committee will be held on Monday evening at which time sub-committees will be appointed. The executive committee is composed of President Horace W. Gray, Edward A. Weeks, William J. Gallagher, Hiram S. Merrifield and John J. Jackson.

The crowds that have attended the Sunset base ball league games assure it of being a great success.

PORTSMOUTH YACHT CLUB BEGINS BANNER SEASON

Largest Fleet of Boats in Its History Will Be In Service

With a larger flotilla of power boats afloat than ever before and with the usual number of sailing sloops as a reminder of olden times, Portsmouth Yacht club has launched into what is expected to be its most successful season. James E. Driscoll has fired the shot that formally opened the club, and at sunrise and sunset down each day Mr. Driscoll again pulls the string of a cannon at the club house on nearly the identical spot that Thomas Bailey Aldrich made famous with cannon in a memorable Fourth of July celebration.

Commodore Charles E. Smith has launched his open power boat into the Piscataqua river and has applied to it the name Empress in letters of bright gold. Vice Commodore Fred C. Schreider also has launched his open power boat, Lenore, and the other officers of the club will have their boats into the river in time to lead the first club run.

Sheriff Ceylon Spillney and former Councilman Charles E. Bailey have deposited the cabin power boat Clyde in the water and have made slight repairs. Woodbury Langdon, the millionaire, has launched his power boat after a year of inactivity.

George Pabst, his brother, J. B. Pabst; James E. Whalley, who owns the Kearsarge; Byron Dame, the Betina, and Charles Fink, the Virginia, H. Ducker, C. O. Nason, Oscar Johnson have their cabin power boats at their disposal and already have tested their charges in short cruises upon the river.

These members of the club have launched open power boats: Harry Stackpole, H. A. Davis, Clifford Humphreys, Walter Brown, James P. Lee, John Downs, A. B. McNabb, J. B. Small of Newmarket, Dr. Nate of Exeter, W. C. Langley of Newmarket, W. H. Woolfenden of Dover, Ralph W. Jenkins, E. E. Winkley, Oliver J. T. Priest, H. P. Priest of Rye Beach, J. T. Coolidge, John P. Holman, Geo. Stillson, James Sylvester, Stephen Decatur, R. J. Boyd, Elias P. Card, William R. Dearborn, Richard O'Brien, Frank W. Ferguson and C. B. Frisbee.

Cabin power boats have been placed into the river by F. A. Goudy, C. O. Nason of York, William P. Gray, Harry Varney of Newmarket, Dean Varney of Berwick, Me., as Fralick and Samuel Kingsbury.

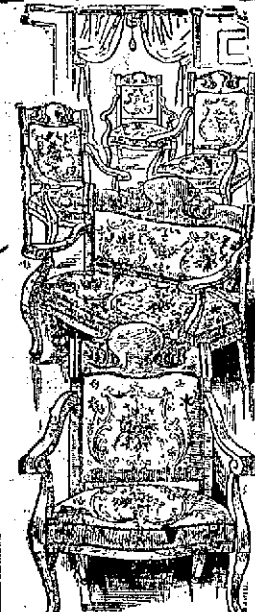

Among the acquisitions to the fleet are the open power boats of H. A. Davis and Albert B. McNabb whose first power boat, the Pel, drifted in sea last year. Goudy's cabin boat is also a new addition to the club fleet. The power boat owned by Frisbee was a tender of the famous racing yacht Fortuna.

Relics of the past are seen in the sailboats of William Fraser, George tina, and Charles Fink, the Virginia, H. Ducker, C. O. Nason, Oscar Johnson have their cabin power boats at their son and A. B. Johnson.

DIVINE SARA PASSES THROUGH PORTSMOUTH

OLEA VAUGHAN VERY ILL, CAN NOT TESTIFY

Latest reports from the bedside of Mrs. Olea Ball Vaughan, at West Lebanon, Me., whose lawyers are trying to procure for her a larger share of her mother's $250,000 fortune are that she is so ill from tuberculosis that not even her counsel are permitted to see her. Her most intimate relatives are also barred. She is not allowed to receive mail or to read newspapers.

Hopes for her appearance as a witness at the will hearing at Alfred have been abandoned. Doubts are entertained that she will be able to stand the strain of furnishing a deposition. Several attempts have proved futile.

"Reports of Mrs. Vaughan's actual condition have all appeared to fall short of her true state," said a member of Mrs. Shapleigh's household today. "The truth of the matter is that she is deplorably ill. While her tent is kept in place, she occupies it only on pleasant days."

Edmund M. Parker, co-executor and trustee with Joseph G. Thorp under

After three years under a doctor's care at an institution in this city William F. Almy of Brookline has petitioned G. L. Huntress, master, to reopen the case brought by Edward Ginn against him and others in order that Almy may testify.

Ginn seeks to hold Almy and his codefendants liable for misrepresentations alleged to have been made by them to induce Ginn to buy stock in the Argenta mines company in 1904.

Almy's motion before master Huntress was made after the master had submitted a draft of his report to the court to Almy's counsel in which Almy is practically held liable to Ginn for about $250,000.

The case came up before Judge Loring in the supreme court at Boston, Friday, when Ginn's counsel made several motions.

First, Ginn asks the court to review and reverse the order of the master reopening the case and permitting Almy to testify. Ginn also asks that an order granting Almy a writ of protection against arrest while in Massachusetts be revoked.

Further, he wants an order for the arrest of Almy on his entry into the state with a view to forcing the Brookline man to give bail of $250,000 or more to effect his release.

If this is not deemed advisable, Ginn asks the court, in the case Almy is permitted to give his evidence at this time, to require Almy to subject himself and his property as security to satisfy any final judgment which may be secured against him.

The company had two gold mines in California and a copper mine near Nelson, British Columbia. It is claimed by Ginn that Almy made misrepresentations about the properties which induced him to pay about $180,000 for stock.

He claims that $150,000 of what he paid was turned over by Almy to his wife.

Judge Loring reserved his decision.

TINY YACHT LEAVES FOR MEDITERRANEAN

The 25-foot auxiliary yawl Sea Bird is expected to leave Providence at 2 p. m. today for Rome. The crew, comprising Thomas Fleming Day, T. R. Goodwin and F. B. Thurber. A royal sendoff will be given the trio by the Providence Yacht club.

From the clubhouse the yawl will proceed to the lightship at Nahantucket South Shoals, where news will be flashed of the boat's progress. Leaving the lightship the Sea Bird will take southeasterly course, crossing the gulf stream to latitude 40 degree north after which the craft will be headed due east on a run to the Azores, which will take about 20 days and will be the longest of the trip.

After stopping for a day to take on fresh supplies the yawl will be heading for Gibraltar, a run of about nine or 10 days. Ten days later the crew expects to make Rome.

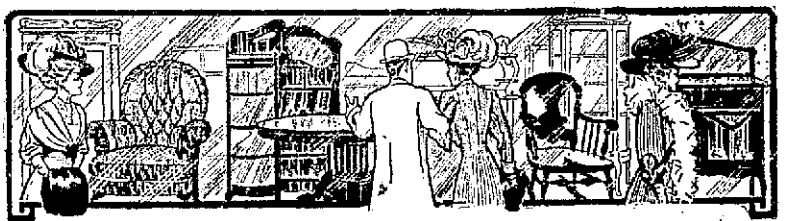

Mr. Day chose the best month in the year to make the journey, the charts showing that in June there are only six chances in 100 that the velocity of the wind will exceed 40 miles an hour. The wind will blow from southeasterly and westerly quarters for the greater part of the course, according to the charts.

While the projects is rather hazardous, not one of the crew has any fear of disaster and all hands expect, to suffer from nothing except cramped quarters and a lack of fresh food.

The bulk of the work of navigating the craft fall to Mr. Thurber, according to Mr. Day, and no fear is expressed by either of the three that the best boat will poke her nose into any port other than the three mapped out on the schedule.

TO POPULARIZE THE ARMY

Washington, June 9.—To popularize the army, to interest a class of persons who heretofore have been attracted only to the commissioned grades and to extend the benefits of military training is the purpose of General Wood, chief of staff, in proposing to Congress a novel scheme for six-month enlistments. It is his belief that many high school boys and graduates of colleges may be led by the promise of a short taste of military life to enlist for that period who would not care to abandon the business careers they have mapped out as would be the case in a five-year term. Youngsters of high intelligence should easily be able to ground themselves in the military practice in six months' hard work, and the benefit to be derived from the settling-up drills and regular habits of life at the formative period would tend to physical development. With these reasons in mind, General Wood is urging public discussion of the subject with the expectation of pressing the legislation upon Congress at the regular session next winter.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY VOLCANO COLIMA IN MEXICO.

Tuxpan, Jalisco, Mex., June 9.—Blas Ruiz, a merchant, is the first to arrive from Colima, the region said to have suffered the greatest shock from the earthquake.

He reports the railroad blocked by landslides and that there were only two or three victims at Colima. The roofs of the cathedral and of the church of La Mercedes fell in.

The principal damage, other than this, was to a number of small houses. The principal buildings suffered little damage.

Special dispatches to El Diario and the El Herald report much damage from the earthquake in Zepatlan, in the state of Jalisco. The railroad station and 230 houses were destroyed.

The town presents a desolate aspect. It is believed that many people were killed and injured, but the number is not known. At the ranches and smaller towns in the district great damage has been suffered.

According to these special dispatches, Colima suffered great damage. The volcano of that name emitted streams of lava on the towns of Toniliza and San Andres, where many houses were destroyed, but no details are given of the extent of the destruction.

Telegrams from Zepatlan by way of Guadalajara indicate that 36 bodies have been recovered at that point in addition to 44 injured, who are in the hospital.

It is estimated that 300 houses in that locality, chiefly shacks, were destroyed. The stores also suffered. In Tuxpan three killed are reported.

AMERICANS TAKE PRIZES AT HORSE SHOW

Richmond, Eng., June 9.—Americans divided honors in the coaching marathon which was run today in connection with the royal horse show at Richmond which opened today.

Judge William H. Moore of New York took first prize for private coaches, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt of New York secured first prize in the class for road coaches.

Nineteen competitors started from Hyde Park on the marathon to the show grounds at Richmond. The entries included the best known coaches and teams in the United Kingdom, beside the American competitors.

The success achieved by the Americans in previous competitions focused the attention of the big crowds of spectators on Mr. Vanderbilt's grays and Judge Moore's bays, and the bestowal of winning rosettes on the entries of the Americans in their respective classes was no surprise.

At the horse show today, Judge Moore's Memento Pride secured second prize in the class for novice harness horses under 15 hands high.

GREENLAND

Rev. Dr. Edward Robie had the annual exchange with Rev. George Hibbert Driver, of the First church, Exeter, last Sunday morning. Circumstances unavoidable prevented the traditional interchange on "apple blossom Sunday," but Mr. Driver was none the less welcome when he came. His morning theme on character and address to the Sunday school boys were listened to with close attention and highly appreciated.

"It was a gratification to find on the church calendar in the Monday mail among the notes the following: 'Our Welcome to Dr. Robie. The joy of this custom (the 'Apple Blossom Sunday exchange')—delayed this season) increases each year. Dr. Robie comes to us having passed his nineteenth birthday and still his health and strength continue, his eye is not dimmed nor his natural strength abated. We are blessed in being able to listen to him yet again, and we wish to our dear and saltily neighbor in welcoming him to our pulpit, many more ears of active ministerial usefulness, and much fruitage to crown his labors."

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac N. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Weeks and George Newton Weeks took an auto trip to Deerfield on Friday to attend the silver wedding anniversary of Mrs. Carr's sister.

Edgar Sewall has been home recently from Boston to make a brief stay with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sewall, before going into Maine on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach, of Cambridge Mass., have recently passed a few days with relatives in town. Mrs. Leach brought to Rev. Dr. Robie a fine photograph of her former pastor the late Rev. Leonard S. Parker, also a friend of Dr. Robie.

A post-card from Mrs. Theodore F. Lowd, who is being entertained at North Conway by her son Ralph Lowd, says "up among the hills is the place for me."

SUPREME COURT DECISION IN THE DORR CASE

Among the decisions handed down at the June term of Superior court is that of Dorr, administration versus Atlantic Shore Railway, which is as follows:

Case for personal injuries resulting in the death of the plaintiff's intestate. Verdict for the plaintiff. There was a motion for a non-suit which was denied by Chamberlain, J. subject to exception. The defendant also excepted to evidence of the declaration of the intestate; some ten minutes after the accident and after the accident and after he had been carried to his home, that the car ran over him.

Kelley, Harding & Hatch, for the plaintiff.

Kivel & Hughes, for the defendant.

Walker, J. The evidence justified the jury in finding the following fact. The plaintiff's intestate at the time of his injuries was a boy and one half years old. About ten minutes before he was injured he left the house of a neighbor which was located nearly opposite the junction of Keene avenue and the highway leading from York to Kittery. The place of the accident was in Maine. It does not appear that any one saw him after he left the neighbor's house until just after the passing of a mail car on the defendant's electric line which it operated along the highway above mentioned. The track of the railway ran along the side of the highway opposite the house where the boy was last seen. In order to go from that house to his home on the avenue it was necessary for him to cross the track which he would naturally do at the junction. The highway was some thirty feet wide, and while crossing the street in the manner suggested the boy would have been in plain sight of the motorman who might have reduced the speed of the car in time to avoid running on to him. But it is conceded that the motorman did not see him before the accident and did nothing to avoid injuring him. He was apparently running his car at the rate of some fifteen miles an hour and took no precautions for the safety of travelers who might be crossing at the junction. Upon such evidence argument is unnecessary in support of the finding that the defendant was negligent and that his negligence was a proximate cause of the boy's fatal injuries.

Nor is it necessary to discuss the question whether the motorman could have seen the boy in time to avoid striking him; if he had been approaching the track from the other direction, as he might have been since upon a reasonable construction of the evidence the jury may have reached their verdict on the theory that he was returning to his home from the neighbor's house, and would have been in plain sight of a motorman who was exercising reasonable care to avoid injuring people at that point. It cannot be said that this is mere conjecture.

Though there is no evidence what the boy did for his own protection it is not essential that there should be any. Contributory negligence is not imputable to a child of his age. Bisatillon v. Blood, 64 N. H. 565; Warren v. Railway, 70 N. H. 352; Carney v. Railway 72 N. H. 364.

The admission in evidence of the little boy's statement a few minutes after he was injured that the car ran over him does not appear to have been erroneous as a matter of law. It cannot be said that the court, in exercise of reasonable discretion as to the question of the remoteness in time of the declaration from the injury, could not find under all the circumstances that it was so connected with the principal fact in issue as to be a part of it. There is no rule of law that determines with precision the number of minutes after an accident that may elapse before one's declaration of the occurrence ceases to have the character of res gestae and becomes more narrative. Much is left to the discretion of the court in admitting or rejecting such testimony. Murray v. Railroad, 72 N. H. 32; Robinson v. Stahl, 74 N. H. 310. Exceptions overruled; judgment on the verdict.

NAVY YARD TROOPS BEING WITHDRAWN

Navy Orders.

Rear Admiral N. C. Twining, commissioned chief of the bureau of ordnance, navy department, with rank of rear admiral, from May 25; Capt. R. O. Hilder, commissioned a captain in the navy from Jan 29; Comdr. H. M. Wilson, retired, detached duty as inspector in charge of 7th and 8th Lighthouse district to home; Comdr. R. H. Belknap, commissioned a commander in the navy from March 4; Lt. H. McL. Walker, to home and wait orders; Lt. L. Noyes, W. D. Decker, I. C. Bogart, H. Dela., R. M. Brainerd and L. B. Brenheim (junior grade), commissioned lieutenants (junior grade) in the navy from Feb. 13.

Successful Test Made.

A successful test was made Friday on the United States collier Neptunus at Sparrow's Point of a high speed turbine engine with a horizontal motion and a reduction gear, invented by Rear Admiral George Melville, U. S. N., (retired). The reduction gear is placed between the turbine and propeller to reconcile the high speed of the turbine with the slow speed of the propeller. A great economy of space is effected by the substitution of the new type of engine for the old style reciprocally turbine.

Granite Schooner Berthed.

The granite laden schooner Emma F. Angle was brought up river this morning and berthed on the north side of the station dock where she will lie until the schooner Alice Holbrook is unloaded of her cargo of the same material.

Scarcity of Applicants.

With the special examination for candidates this year to the U. S. military academy less than a month distant, the war department is distressed over the lack of any applicants for 40 vacancies in congressional and senatorial districts. In addition there are nearly 100 vacancies with no applicants in the class which is to enter in 1912. The examinations for this year's appointments will be held July 5 and the war department made public Friday the list of congressional and senatorial districts for which no candidates have been named. None is in New England.

Newton May Come Here.

According to information received today, Capt. John T. Newton's orders of Friday will probably be modified to the extent of sending him to this navy yard as commandant, succeeding Capt. Frank A. Wilner. He was last directed to leave the Nebraska and ordered home.

To Be Promoted

Commander Marbury, Johnston, captain of the yard, has returned from Washington. Next week he will be promoted to captain.

Surgeon for the Maine.

Surgeon Edgar Thompson has reported for duty on the battleship Maine.

Not Coming Just Yet.

Naval Constructor Bissett will not report at the yard for six weeks or thereabouts.

Tennessee Goes in Reserve.

Formal orders have been received by Capt. Frank A. Wilner, commandant of the yard, to place the Tennessee in reserve as soon as possible after her arrival here. Part of her crew will go to the Maine.

Washington, June 9.—The second step in the gradual withdrawal of the armed forces of the United States from the vicinity of Mexico was taken today. President Taft approved a war department order which will return to their posts the 4000 soldiers at Galveston, Tex., and the 1500 at San Diego, Cal.

This movement, which will begin in a few days, follows the withdrawal of the 200 marines from Guantanamo, Cuba. The troops at Galveston are of the coast artillery corps. They will be sent back to their stations on army transports.

The action was taken after a discussion of the matter with the President by Sec. of War Stimson and Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army. The improved situation in Mexico made the withdrawal possible and it is expected that the next move will be the early withdrawal of the naval vessels assembled at Guantanamo, Cuba, and San Diego, leaving only the maneuver division, split into several units and distributed through Texas, to meet any emergency.

COMMON GARDEN SAGE RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

A Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling Hair, Itching Scalp Faded and Gray Hair

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

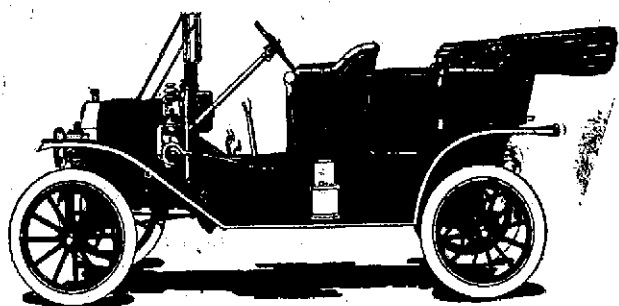

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

In his choice of a Public Utilities commission Governor Bass may either silence or confirm the growing suspicion on the part of the New Hampshire public that he is not a big enough man for his job. It remains to be seen whether he will select tried and true natives of the State, or whether he will abuse his high office by rewarding personal supporters.

At that time he will be weighed in the balance. If he is so narrow minded as to force upon the commission a certain Democrat who since his affiliation with State interests has ever shown himself dominated by personal prejudices, he will assuredly be found wanting.

Indeed numbers of Bass' so called Progressive friends are opposed to his stand as to the Public Utilities Commission. To their credit be it said, they, in common with residents of the state as a whole, desire a commission of independent, fair-minded citizens. They want safe and sane men, not biased, rattle-brained individuals who from accruing personal benefits have a chronic aversion to settling political rows of whatever nature.

New Hampshire has no quarrel with Mr. Bass, but she may properly remind him that the influence of certain of his associates against everything to promote the growth of the state is slated for a timely and natural death.

There are plenty of eligibles for the Public Utilities Commission who fully measure up to the standard of capability and efficiency required. Let us have a commission of such men—men who have made good in the service of their native state. Let there be no summer visitors on the pay-rolls.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS.

Boston's fake duke will adopt his alias of Count de Nevers never again.

A pet porcupine has run away in Chicago. It will naturally be recovered in the jungle.

That soda fountain in Cliftondale which accidentally became charged with electricity must have disgorged a veritable elixir of life.

Wellesley has chosen her class ideals in beauty, wit and popularity, but the champion speller has not been nominated as yet.

Testimony evolved in the Bull case seems to indicate that Mrs. Oie was little more than a portable repository for strange East Indian medicines.

We recommend pneumatic envelopes, to be donned by aviators. This would obviate the necessity of dropping a card before a contemplated descent.

At least one advantage of the harem skirt is that the adventuress is unable to draw a revolver "from the folds of her dress" and shoot down the millionaire club man.

Portsmouth was an appropriate place for the meeting of the State Library association. The books written or published or which contain some reference to the city by the sea would make in themselves a considerable and creditable library. And then remember the name—Doan's—and unless the wind is east, Portsmouth's delicious salty breezes aren't to be sneezed at.

The Portsmouth firemen as well as Uncle Sam's sailors again notably proved their versatility Thursday evening when they ferried hose barge across the river and put out the Pierce Island blaze.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Multiplying the Postal Savings Banks.

The preliminary experiments having resulted satisfactorily, a large extension of the postal savings bank system is in contemplation. One hundred and fifty additional offices are to be opened every week, and it is intended that 1000 of them shall be in operation by the close of the fiscal year on the last of the present month. Then a further step will be taken and depositories will be established in New York and other cities of the first class.

This will put the popularity of the new facility to a severer test than it has thus far sustained. Up to this time the offer of it has been confined to the smaller communities where no convenient opportunity for opening small bank accounts has been provided. Thrifty persons with money which they wished to place somewhere in safe keeping have accordingly been glad to accept the 2 per cent. interest, which is all the government pays in consideration of an absolute security.

But in the larger cities, such as Philadelphia and New York, savings banks have been established which justly enjoy the entire confidence of the community, and at which the interest paid materially exceeds the government rate. It is not probable that the deposits at these institutions will be affected when the postal savings banks begin doing business, and the extent of the latter's operations will depend upon their ability to attract a new clientele.

No one need be surprised if the opening of postal banks in the big cities should bring into circulation considerable sums of money now in hiding.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Reciprocity Popular

It may strike some readers of the news of the day that the weak point in the result of the Chicago Tribune's canvass of the newspapers of 22 states in the West, the central part of the country and the Pacific coast on the Canadian reciprocity issue, lies in the very large proportion of the publications questioned which did not reply at all. Out of more than 10,000 papers interrogated definite statements were obtained from only 4240, so that a decided majority refused to be polled.

However, there is no reason to suppose that the views of these non-voting publications differ materially from those of the editors who complied with the Tribune's request, and the result of the test among the periodicals from which statements were obtained was so overwhelmingly in favor of reciprocity—about three to one—that the general sentiment of the press throughout the country cannot be considered doubtful. As far as the newspapers go, Canadian reciprocity is an easy and emphatic winner, and it will hardly be denied that in regard to such questions the attitude of the press is a very fair weather vane for determining public sentiment.

About three years ago I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. They cured me of kidney complaint and I have had little trouble of the kind since. FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Gleanings From Files of Portsmouth Chronicle

There is a probability that the decision of the Naval Board, relative to the conversion of line of battleships into steamers, will be carried out immediately. Among the vessels which passed inspection was the Alabama, 34, at this naval station.

Steamer Mount Vernon from Fortress Monroe reports the entire town of Evansport, eleven miles this side of Aqua Creek, in flames. The property of the town is principally owned by Union men.

Fort Constitution—Many of the volunteers at the fort received their pay and were discharged on Monday; about one hundred of the volunteers stationed there are to be discharged as the force is inconveniently large. Fifty men are to be sent down from Camp Constitution, being the surplus of the Second Regiment—and it is designed to form the force at the Fort into two companies, of eighty men each. Dr. Oliver, of this city has been appointed Surgeon of the post. There are a few cases of sickness, measles, sore throat, etc., but all of a mild type. The hospital is to be organized within a day or two, most of the sick at present being quartered at private houses on the island.

The town of Stratham has voted to raise a sum of money, not to exceed $500 for the benefit of the volunteers from that town. It was left to the decision of the Selectmen in what manner the money should be distributed.

The New Hampshire regiment with several other was to leave Washington for Virginia, on Sunday night or Monday.

Great Railway Terminal.

The Chicago and Northwestern railroad has just completed a new station in Chicago at a cost said to be $25,000,000. This station and its yards cover an immense acreage in a business district where land is very costly. Thus is added another to the list of remarkable terminals whose construction within the last few years has been so notable a feature of American railway enterprise. The new terminal at New York with their costly tunnel approaches, the enormous union station in Washington, several recent structures in Chicago, culminating with the Northwestern now just opened, and a multitude of buildings at other points which are minor only because they are overshadowed by these immense undertakings elsewhere have called for unprecedented outlays of capital.

It is a serious question how far these terminals, represent a wise use of stockholders' money. The remarkable engineering exploits which rendered possible the new Pennsylvania station in New York, had been expected to yield a rich harvest in increased freights and largely expanded suburban business. But President McCrea told the Interstate Commerce Commission some months ago that his road did not expect to profit in any large degree by this huge investment of funds. Full allowance must be made for the circumstances under which this remarkable statement was made, but it remains true that the assertion was not seriously combated. Certainly the great union station in Washington has produced no corresponding increase in traffic. It will probably never pay even a small interest upon the investment. Much the same is true of other enterprises of similar kind. As population grows denser, cities larger, land dearer, the construction of such terminals will become more and more expensive and may in some instances be impossible. Yet the increase in traffic resulting from all these conditions will demand greater facilities, and they may thus be regarded in a sense as a desirable anticipation of future needs. The public demands increasingly good service and is not content that such service be confined to equipment and road bed. Practically throughout the country there has been, in the last decade, a loud and sometimes irresistible call for better stations. Of this the great city terminals are merely the extreme illustration. More than anything else the large investment in stations and their appliances is a concession to public demand and a recognition of the higher standard of convenience and comfort that now prevails. The complacency and satisfaction with which the community views these outlays is the best of evidence regarding their true basis.

It is well to remember that every dollar invested in station magniconce, if it be true that no corresponding revenue is earned, is a dollar withdrawn from transportation improvement or track extension. It is also a good reason against the reduction of railroad rate, since the terminals are built with borrowed capital and some one must pay the interest on the investment. The cost of this capital is invariably figured in when estimates are made as to the necessary return on railroad properties. Here is a danger. With closer oversight over capitalization, more rigid scrutiny of rates of return, and more jealous public inspection generally, there is a temptation to railroad managers to put their investments into the improvement of old and tried transportation routes rather than into the exploitation of new and problematical areas. This is another case where the community can not have the cake and also eat it. Higher rates and less rackrate are probably the price of unnecessarily luxurious and elaborate outfitting and housing.—Boston Herald.

CHILDRENS NIGHT ENTERTAINMENT

Strawberry Bank grange was the host of the prospective grangers on Thursday night at a childrens night entertainment in the hall on Congress street. Immediately after a brief session, presided over by Edward H. Adams, the hall was thrown open to the little guests. Many of the children participated in an entertainment which consisted of instrumental and vocal solos and of tableaux arranged by Mr. Charles W. Taylor, who, with Miss Blanche Leavitt, was in charge. After the entertainment the children engaged in dancing. Music for dancing was played by Herman Pettigrew, violin, and Mrs. Ruth Ames, pianist.

The Observer

THE ROUT OF THE CARD CLUB

Twelve women in this town are "sad and sore and sick at heart." Twelve (wives unto their husbands say: "I know you think you're smart!"

When next the women's card club meets 'twill be a lodge of sorrow. The day is one of utter gloom, and grief waits 'each tomorrow;

There is no joy in clubland now, no sunshine bright and gay, The men have shown the women that they don't know how to play.

For weeks the women of the club, have boasted of their skill. And all the men have laughed at them, as husbands sometimes will.

Till desperate a challenge at our heads they hurled, and then we fixed a date to play the club—the women 'gainst the men.

We warned them not to do it, that the outcome they'd regret, But all the answer that we got was: "How much will you bet?"

Five hundred is the game we played, four hands around—the way The ladies of the club at their weekly meetings play.

The Battle of the Wilderness was but a tame affair Compared unto the struggle that we then engaged in there;

And Donaparte at Waterloo had easy sailing quite Compared unto the women when they fought the men that night.

We had them riled, we had them sore, we had them peevish, too, We had them fighting 'mong themselves, as women often do;

Wives called their husbands awful names, if tell the truth I must, More than one woman in the room some lady cuss words cussed;

We beat them to a frazzle, and with them we nipped the floor, They got ten thousand points, but we got twenty thousand more.

There's weeping in the card club now, and sorrow and despair, Twelve women gnash their pearly teeth and tear their purchased hair; and tear their purchased hair; Twelve women, when their hubbies grin, burst into tears and sigh, It's plain the dissolution of the card club now is nigh.

There is no joy in clubland now, no sunshine bright and gay, The men have shown the women that they don't know how to play.

—Detroit Free Press.

No doubt there are men who would sympathize with the man from Missouri as told in the following story, but the Observer imagines there are more women who would like to trade off their "worse half."

A Missourian from the Ozarks recently went to the city to see the sights. He had never been in a big city before. He walked down the street, looking in the windows and enjoying himself hugely. At one place he saw a sign reading, "Women's Exchange."

The mountaineer hurried into the store, which was filled with various specimens of feminine handicraft.

"Is this the Womens Exchange?" he asked.

"It is," answered a very tall, very gaunt and very spinsterlike person behind the counter.

"Be you the woman?" and he eyed her keenly.

"I guess I am."

"Well, I guess I'll keep 'er," he said apologetically, hurrying out.

Dozens of places within the city limits are alive with brown tail moths. In the direction of Rye millions may be seen. It hardly seems right that inhabitants of the immediate residential section should spend their good money in a vain cause, which it certainly will prove if the outskirts as well as the heart of the city are not thoroughly cleared up. Somebody is neglecting his duty.

It is surely up to Portsmouth to give the boys of the Tennessee—300 of them, and fine chaps—an unadorned, hearty welcome upon their arrival here. Plans are taking form already for balls in honor of both officers and enlisted men during their stay here.

Portsmouth has no quarrel with Dover, and efforts on the part of the Cocheco city to discredit us in the eyes of the enlisted men from the navy yard hardly seem fair and above board—especially as Dover has recently sent over 100 men to the navy yard here for employment.

Portsmouth and Dover should stand by each other.

In the departure of Robert if.

Harding this city loses a bright, clean business man, whose like the city ever needs. However, in his new departure he is wished success from all sides. Mr. Harding will not wholly abandon his law practice but will devote his energies to both business and legal interests of the Sparrow Mfg. Co., aforementioned.

Without waiting for action by the Public Works department a number of Middle street residents have purchased a quantity of oil at their own expense and are proceeding to lay the dust in the most approved fashion. One citizen said that the city sprinkling was so unsatisfactory that he was adopting this scheme which has been tried by the Rye and Greenland farmers at small expense.

Some indication of the business of the coming season at York Harbor is shown from the fact that there is now absolutely not a single cottage obtainable. A prospective summer sojourner there told me yesterday that only one cottage was offered him, and that while he was deliberating it was let to someone else. Consequently he is to go abroad in July.

RECORD WHEAT CROP IS NOW PROBABILITY

Promise that this year's wheat crop will be the greatest ever produced is given in the June crop report just issued by the department of agriculture. Estimates by the department's experts indicate that approximately 764,291,857 bushels of wheat will be harvested in this country this summer and autumn, an increase of about 68,848,857 bushels over that reported last year. Of winter wheat the indicated yield is almost 480,000,000 bushels and of spring wheat 284,000,000 bushels.

Prof. N. G. Murray, acting chairman of the crop reporting board, commenting upon the report said: "The acreage of spring wheat shows a total larger than any previous record and nearly 9 per cent greater than last year. On June 1 the crop was above the average in promise, the condition and acreage combined being such as to give hope for a yield of nearly 23 per cent more than last year and nearly 17 per cent more than the average for the last five years.

"The average of oats was not quite so large as it was last year, but the one-tenth of 1 per cent reduction is substantially immaterial. The condition of the crop indicates a yield per acre of 27.7 bushels as compared with 31.9 last year, and 28 for the average of the last five years.

"The condition of all crops in the Pacific northwest, particularly in Washington and Oregon, is notably fine."

A late boat was run to Portsmouth for the accommodation of those attending from that city. At the conclusion of the whist at which there were nine tables, prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. Fred Hatch; consolation, Mrs. T. Butler Hoyt; Gentlemen's first, Charles Hoene; consolation, T. Hugler Hays. The dancing was in charge of, Floor Director, Albert Hanton; Assistant, Herman Manson; Aids, George Smart, George Johnson, Arthur Goodwin, James Abel and Harold Leyden. The purpose of this dance was to raise money to aid the association in buying the necessary articles for its baseball team, and further the interests of the sport in every way possible, in order that some good games may be seen here during the coming months. It is hoped that the old time interest may be revived once more, so that every game will see the bleachers filled to their utmost.

TRIBUTE TO A VETERAN LIGHT HOUSE KEEPER

Editor Herald:

The news just received here of the death of Captain Joshua K. Card, of New Castle, has brought a feeling of deep sorrow to Mrs. Hackett and myself. As a citizen of New Castle, who for many years has known and respected Captain Card, I would pay a word of tribute to his memory.

During a long lifetime, Capt. Card was a conspicuous figure in the town—the most remarkable man I should say, in that little community. Tall, erect, handsome figure, with features that were lighted up with intelligence and kindly humor, ever courteous in bearing, Joshua K. Card might have been styled one of Nature's noblest. He possessed a huge stock of common sense; was an acute observer, and a shrewd, yet fair minded, judge of his fellow men.

During a long stretch of years Captain Card was in charge of the New Castle light. In the performance of this exacting duty he acquitted himself with honor. The captain's fidelity to duty cannot too highly be praised. Punctual to the minute, he literally stayed at his post year after year without a break. At least during this extraordinarily long term he was absent, I am told, but once, and that for only a few days. Such a record stands alone in the annals of the light house establishment.

Moreover, at the date when old age had admonished him that he should retire from active duty, Captain Card was, I believe, in point of continuous service, the oldest lighthouse keeper on the coast. Each inspector in turn, as he concluded his rigid examination of the lighthouse at Fort Point, would commend in the highest terms the service of this model keeper.

No man stood higher in the estimation of the lighthouse board, at Washington, than the keeper of "Portsmouth Light."

Captain Card had a retentive memory. It was a rare treat to listen to him as he talked of the men and women of New Castle of the earlier days. Even when well past fourscore years, his powers in this respect were not in the least impaired. There was now and then a bit of quirkiness in his speech, which gave you to understand that here was a man of rare powers of observation and expression.

Every man, woman and child in New Castle knew and respected Capt. Card. He loved the town, and the townspeople loved him. His remains rest upon the bank of the beautiful river, the ebb and flow of whose tides for many a long year had entered into the daily routine of his useful and honorable life.

TOWN MEETING AT YORK

A special town meeting is being held this afternoon in the town hall at York. This meeting is called for the purpose of endeavoring to arrive at a settlement of the so-called "bridge question," and it is hoped that some way will be found to wind it up.

There are two articles in the warrant, which reads as follows:

1st. To choose a moderator to preside at said meeting.

2nd. To see if the town will vote to pay for building the "new bridge," so-called, and choose a committee to make the settlement with the contractor for same, and to instruct the selectmen or some other agents to borrow money on the credit of the town for that purpose, and to take any action deemed necessary to accomplish a settlement.

Big Crowd See Good Game in Sunset League.

The Y. M. C. A. defeated the Steam Engineering team at the play grounds in the Sunset League on Friday evening before a crowd that was the best of the week. The game was a good one and it finished out a most successful week in the series, all the games being closely contested other than the P. A. C. and the Ellery Twist Drill Company.

The game last evening was well played and while the Engineering team made some costly errors they did not have a chance at the game, as only two hits were made off Remick, who pitched a great game for the Y. M. C. A. W. Leary was also effective for the losers, but he did not get as good support.

The steam engineering team opened by scoring one run, but that was the last time they saw the home sack. The winners on the other hand scored two in the second and duplicated the stunt in the third with two more putting the game on ice.

Esterbrook was the only man to get anything more than a single and he three base hit was of no avail as he could not score.

There will not be a game this evening, but Monday the Morley Button Factory team go some, although Harry Howard, first base on balls, off Remick 3, off Leary 3. Struck out by Remick 7, by Leary 3. Wild pitch. Leary. Passed ball Morrill. Time up as the best bet for a winner from

MRS. GROVER CLEVELAND RETURNS FROM ABROAD.

New York, June 9—Mrs. Grover Cleveland returned on the steamship Adriatic yesterday afternoon, with her sons, Richard Polson Cleveland, who has been grounding himself in French at Lausanne for a year, and Francis Grover Cleveland. Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, educator and writer, sister of the late President, accompanied them.

"I'm glad to be back home," said Mrs. Cleveland. "For there is nothing in all the world like this country; new is there?"

A good-looking young reporter stepped up to Mrs. Cleveland and introduced himself as one who had presented her a bouquet of roses in the streets of Omaha while she was riding through the city with her husband.

"Why, of course, I remember," said Mrs. Cleveland, "and are you the guilty man? Then, since you were so good as to give me the roses then, you will be careful about your flowery writings now, won't you?"

Both Mrs. Cleveland and Miss Cleveland had been most exact in utilizing their foreign purchases for the customs and as a result they were kept on the pier more than an hour.

Miss Cleveland has been for a year chiefly in Italy doing a little literary work, and she is going back. She said to the reporters: "I have already made one declaration of love. There are too many applicants."

"I had a fine time and enjoyed myself, but I am glad to get back," said Richard Cleveland.

ROBBERS CRACKED SAFE IN PITTSFIELD

Pittsfield, June 9—Safe crackers took between $20,000 and $30,000 in stocks and bonds from the safe of the William H. Cooley company, 37 North street, last night. At midnight police officers found boxes piled up in an area in the rear of the theatre and learned of the break. Officers went out in automobiles to scour the outskirts of the city to hold up any late automobilists or travelers, and the police made an investigation of roomers in certain hotels, but found no clew.

A man representing himself as a professional safe expert, also a dealer in safes had been in Pittsfield lately, and he is being searched for. The safe in the Cooley store was an old lock and key affair of 50 years ago. In an inner compartment were stock of the Cooley company, B. & A. stocks and bonds and other securities. The safe crackers also took $40 in money from the cash drawer and the safe.

All banks have been notified of the numbers of the stocks and bonds, which were registered with bankers here, and a duplicate list of the securities have been sent out to banks and police offices throughout the country.

A. O. Stanley, Who Will Probe the Steel Trust.

© 1911, by American Press Association.

Congressman Augustus Owsley Stanley of Kentucky, chairman of the special committee to inquire into the affairs of the United States Steel corporation, is the author of the house resolution to make the investigation. The special aims of the investigation are to find out how the restriction or destruction of competition, the capitalization and bonding of the various subsidiary concerns of the corporation and the combination between the officers and agents of one corporation and those of others have been brought about. The speculation of officers and agents of the various steel companies in stocks and bonds by agreement among themselves and the profits that may have thus been made will be brought to light if possible. The committee is especially authorized to find out if financial panics have been influenced by the steel trust's operations. The committee has full power to delve into the relations of the employees of the corporation with the various companies.

Mr. Stanley is a native of Kentucky, forty-four years of age, and is serving his fifth term in congress. He was educated at Center college, Danville, Ky., and began the practice of law in 1894. In 1900 he was a presidential elector, which is the only public office ever held by him prior to his election to the Fifty-eighth congress. He has always been a Democrat.

Dr. Carson is a native of Philadelphia, fifty-one years of age and was educated at the University of Pennsylvania and the Reformed Presbyterian Theological seminary, Allegheny, Pa. When he became pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Brooklyn it had but 146 members. Under his ministrations it has grown to over 2,200 and is the largest church of its denomination in Greater New York.

A Puzzle.

"That is a puzzle," said Robert W. Chambers, the novelist, at a dinner. "Yes, that is as much of a puzzle as Mrs. Malaprop's definition of naïveté."

"Mrs. Malaprop and a gentleman were discussing the beautiful young lady poet."

"What I regard as the most conspicuous thing about her is her naïveté."

"Yes," said Mrs. Malaprop. "I wonder what made her get such a tight one!"—Human Life.

In a quarter of a century the number of members enrolled in the national college fraternities has risen from 72,000 to almost 270,000, of whom 30,000 are women. The undergraduate membership in a normal year now ranges between 30,000 and 35,000, and of the more than 1,700 chapters of these societies 1,100 own or real houses which at a conservative estimate are valued at more than $8,000,000.

In Sydney, South Australia, a sum of $500,000 is to be provided annually by parliament for the use of men who desire loans to enable them to build a dwelling house or enlarge one already in their possession or to discharge mortgages on their homes. The law requires that those who benefit by this fund shall earn four-fifths of their income by "actual personal exertion" and that they shall not have an income of over $1,500 a year.

BURIAL OF THE MAINE AT SEA

New York, June 9.—The World prints today a special dispatch from Washington saying that the burial of the bulk of the wrecked battleship Maine at sea, with appropriate ceremonies, or its destruction by explosives, as would be done in the case of any wreck of an ordinary ship obstructing the channels of navigation, are questions being considered by naval officers.

The World correspondent interviewed some of the leading officers of the navy and the consensus of opinion expressed was that the American people prefer that the Maine, like the battleship which went to sleep in the deep with it on Feb. 15, 1898, be reburied with military honors.

If the vessel, in such shape that it can be patched and floated, nearly every officer of the navy is in favor of towing the Maine to deep water out of the channels of navigation, and sinking her with a naval demonstration, including the holding of services and the firing of a salute.

On the other hand, if the vessel cannot be floated, it will be necessary to cut the wreck in parts sufficiently small to be loaded on scows and buried and towed to deep water. In this case a military burial could not be held until the last piece of wreckage had been towed to the burial ground.

Sec. Stimson said the present plans were to remove any bodies which might be in the wreckage to Arlington National cemetery.

After the entire hull is exposed to view an examination by experts will be made. After the examination the navy department will remove all brasses and other valuables. The masts and guns are wanted as relics by different patriotic organizations.

Congress will have to decide whether they are to get them, for the present law under which the vessel is being removed does not provide for such disposition of parts of the vessel.

"I think it would show a fine sentiment to have a military funeral over the wreck after it is placed in its last burial ground," said Asst. Sec. of the Navy Winthrop.

"By all means give the Maine a military burial," said Rear Admiral Nicholson, chief of the bureau of navigation.

Five Manchester dealers who were charged by the State Board of Health with selling goods misbranded in violation of the pure food law were fined in police court in that city on Friday.

This is said to be the beginning to cut the wreck in parts sufficiently small to be loaded on scows and

GAS Is Coal With The Trouble Taken Out

GAS is really nothing more than coal, only with gas you have the coal less the dirt, ashes and smoke. These have been taken out by the gas company, the weight too, has been taken out, for when you use gas you don't have to carry it up from the cellar in buckets, straining your back in your attempt to do so; all of the drudgery has been removed. The Gas Company has taken everything out of the coal but the heat and that's the one thing you want; this they deliver to you right to the burner of the gas range. You only have to turn a valve and strike a match in order to have it.

MADE FIRST REFUSAL

City Clerk Could Not Marry Elopers Boston Couple.

City Clerk Guy E. Corey made his first refusal of applications for marriage licenses in conformity to the new law requiring that a notice of five days be given before a license may be lawfully granted. A couple came to this city from Boston with a request for a license. They said they desired to be married immediately. When Mr. Corey informed them the law, they said they thought it was not applicable to the entire state of New Hampshire, but alone to Nashua. They departed without filing notice of their intention to marry.

WOOD ELECTED SECRETARY OF RAILWAY MAIL.

In the election of officers of the National Association of Railway Clerks held in Syracuse, New York, late Friday evening, the conservatives triumphed. Peter J. Schardt of Milwaukee was elected president, and George A. Wood of Portsmouth, secretary-treasurer.

No action was taken on the question of the affiliation of the organization with labor organizations.

The convention adopted resolutions declaring that no salary should be regulated by car space; that the methods of appointing clerks is defective, and that steps should be taken to reduce to a minimum the class of undesirable clerks entering the service.

Protest was made against the supervision of detail work of the railway mail service by post-office inspectors. The convention voted down a resolution to establish a merit system and went on record as being against the demerit system.

The convention recommended that clerks, when removed shall be given a hearing. Many other resolutions affecting the detail work of the service were acted upon.
The re-election of Mr. Wood means that the headquarters of what has always been a New Hampshire corporation will remain in this city. The local office of the Association here employs a sizable staff and is one of the largest patrons of the post office.

SEVEN MEN GET AN INVOLUNTARY BATH

Sitting on Wharf Near Navy Yard Landing When It Collapsed

Seven men who were reclining on a seat on a part of the old city wharf adjacent to the navy yard landing, waiting for the departure of the ferry boat 132 on her 8:45 trip this morning were given the surprise of their lives when the wharf collapsed without warning and threw them all into the Piscataqua river.

Fortunately the tide was only about half flood and the men landed in but three or four feet of water, which, however, they found exactly as efficacious for drenching purposes as the fathomless Atlantic.
Pay Clerk Thomas A. Henry had his dog with him, and when Bobbs started for Maine on his own hook he started to chase him. He got the the pup, but was in deep water when assisted ashore by Timothy O'Leary, watchman at the navy yard ferry landing.

The other men got out without difficulty and took hacks for their homes, where they got into dry logs and resumed their trip later. In the party were Warrant Machinist Albert Reinhardt of the battleship Maine, Warrant Machinist T. J. Hayes, stationed at the navy yard, H. W. Peary, a draughtsman at the yard and three others, clerks employed at the navy yard, who had made an unceremonious departure before their names could be learned.

Watchman O'Leary states that he notified the city authorities a year ago that the wharf was unsafe.

6% Important Feature of the Real Estate Bond for Savings

Barely the bonds represent actual ownership in New York real estate, not only that now owned, but that which the Corporation may in the future acquire. They constitute a legal lien enforceable against all present and future assets of the Corporation, whose books are regularly audited by The Audit Company of New York, the largest and most responsible in that business, and whose certificate is accepted as "correct and true" the world over.

If the impulse to save were as great as the impulse to spend there would be more independent men in the world.
Begin a Savings Account with us by subscribing for a 6 per cent Bond, payments can be made monthly, quarterly, semiannually or annually. There are about two hundred bond holders in Portsmouth at the present time and each of them a reference.
